GREAT WORK OF JOHN ROBINSON

Paper Read by Mrs. N. D. Robinson at Family Reunion —Much to Thank him For.

At the 25th reunion of the Robinson family, at Franklin, on Thursday, an excellent story of the life of Rev. John Robinson, who was very prominent in the religious life of England and Holland in the 16th and 17th century, was read by Mrs. Nelson D. Robinson of Norwich Town, in which she said: "I wonder how many of us realize at this 25th annual reunion of the lineal descendants of Arad and Lura Robinson, that to John Robinson we owe this day's privileges and pleasures. When the time came for the Mayflower to sail it was found that John Robinson was to remain in Leyden, and Elder Brewster was to go. The disappointment was terrible, yet it was planned, and with him the Scrooby brethren and in this place John Robinson spent the remainder of his life as pastor of St. Peter's church. The year of his birth is determined from an entry in the records of the University of Leyden. On Sept. 5, 1613, by permission of the university, he was admitted to the university, being then 39 years of age and supporting a family. Therefore he was born in 1575 or 1576. He died in Leyden in 1633. The place of his birth has not been surely determined. One author notes the fact that prominent dissenters during the reign of King Charles II. were Robinson of Gainsborough. In the time of his greatest perplexity John Robinson turned toward Gainsborough as the place of his birth. The place of his birth might be drawn toward the home of his youth.

The Pilgrim Fathers of New England, printed in London, 1895, says: "John Robinson was the son of John Robinson, D. D., an archbishop and preceptor of the university, and of his childhood really nothing is known. There is a reference in one of his essays to the harmful indulgence of mothers and grandmothers toward children. Neither is anything known of his family or the social station into which he was born. But there seems to have been a considerable period of his life, after he had become involved in trouble with the church authorities, when he existed with no visible means of support. Also he printed many books, which must have cost him large sums of money, since their sale was forbidden at home; and in Leyden he was concerned in the purchase of a large property, the so-called John Robinson house. His writings never hint the pinch of poverty, and these facts would seem to indicate that he was not from a poor family.

John Robinson entered the University of Cambridge, England, during the reign of the reign of Queen Elizabeth. He was a student of the university, and probably soon after took up the work as a curate in the Church of England. Robinson took orders in the Church of England, but, growing dissatisfied with the ministry received from the bishop of Exeter, he withdrew from the people's choice.

John Robinson was a reformer first and an advocate and theologian afterwards. He is represented as a young, enthusiastic, Christian preacher and pastor, in the orders of the Church of England, who yearned with all his soul to see the visible practical results of his preaching and pastoral care in the changed lives and Christian character of his people.

John Robinson was a man of wide religious life of England and Holland. His "Essays" disclose acquaintance with the great classical and church writers, and, as a matter of course, he was pre-eminently a student of the Scriptures.

John Robinson was a rigid separatist—he refused to hear any minister of the Church of England preach, and later cast his fortunes with the Scrooby brethren and in 1614 was elected their pastor. But personal influences compelled Mr. Robinson to make another change and he went to Leyden, Holland, and with him the Scrooby brethren and in this place John Robinson spent the remainder of his life as pastor of St. Peter's church. PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.

Norwich grange, No. 172, arranged at its last meeting for its regular summer vacation by providing to have only one meeting in each July and August. This will be on the fourth Wednesday of each month. A notable time for the grangers is provided on Aug. 12, when New London County Pomona is to hold a special meeting to receive a visit from National Master M. J. Bachelder. It is expected that this will be made an open air meeting in some grove, probably Richards' grove.

L'UNION ST. JEAN BAPTISTE D'AMERIQUE.

Thursday was St. John's day, the patron saint of this society, and was appropriately observed in the evening in Foresters' hall by Lafayette council, No. 307, with a social evening, which was largely attended. The attractive programme at which Dr. G. A. Comeau, the president, was in the chair, included speeches by Adelard Morin, P. Lesclapart, A. Racine and others. Musical numbers were given by Miss Della Sabourin, vocal solo; Bert Caron, vocal solo; and a patriotic song, "Hail, Canada," solo, Mrs. J. Brunelle, solo. Mrs. Brunelle was the accompanist. Refreshments were served.

Modern Woodmen. Ionic camp, No. 764, received two applications at its meeting Monday night in Foresters' hall, and has prospects of several more to provide work at coming meetings.

The committees are all actively at work on plans for entertaining visiting members of the order during the parade day of the town's celebration. The top floor of the Carroll building has been hired, where open house will be held all day, beginning at 7 a. m. A light lunch will be served. Cochequin camp of Montville, Mystic camp, and Shetucket camp at Veracalles have all sent word that they will attend in force, and Jewett City camp will be represented, as well as Norwich camp, all joining in the parade, in which it is expected from 300 to 400 Modern Woodmen will be in line.

Odd Fellows. Both Union lodge, No. 11, and Shetucket lodge, No. 27, nominated officers at their meetings this week, and elections will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings for the term of six months, which begins in July. At the Shetucket lodge meeting on Tuesday evening a social hour with refreshments, is planned for the election.

Union lodge No. 4, has received word from four of the other camps in the state that they will be here to take part in the parade, those being Camp Aurora and Camp Sagassaw of New Haven, Canton T. K. Martin of Waterbury, and Canton Foster of New Britain. The Wattham Watch Co. band marches just ahead of the Odd Fellows, and the Second Regiment band behind them, so that they are to be well supplied with music. The local Odd Fellows will have their hall in the Olympic building
